Wonder Forge, Inc.™ Wins 3 Oppenheim Platinum Awards for its Licensed Disney Games

Seattle Game Maker Racks Up 178 Awards To Date for Product Excellence

Seattle, WA (November 13, 2014)—Seattle-based game maker Wonder Forge, Inc.™ announced today that it has won 3 of the industry’s most prestigious honors for its licensed Disney games. This year’s 2014 Oppenheim Toy Portfolio Platinum award winners include the company’s Disney Frozen Surprise Slides Game, Star Wars Force Grab Game, and Disney Planes Sky Race Action Game. The Platinum winners were announced today on toyportfolio.com and select winners will be featured on the TODAY Show this week. The company’s Disney Planes Matching Game received an Oppenheim Gold award.

Since the company’s inception in 2007, Wonder Forge has specialized in thoughtfully created innovative game play, leveraging licenses in a high quality way to bring to life beloved characters and stories. Today the company publishes more than 90 games and puzzles, created in collaboration with the industry’s top names in children’s entertainment.

“Wonder Forge consistently makes child-friendly games that parents also enjoy playing while preserving the appeal of the licensed property,” said Stephanie Oppenheim, co-founder of toyportfolio.com. “For example, this year’s Disney Planes Sky Race Action Game takes the film’s enthusiasm for travel and encourages kids to fly their planes to the destination. The fact that our kid and adult testers were up and active (and having a great time) speaks volumes about getting it right when creating exciting new games for kids.”

Wonder Forge has been winning top honors for product excellence for nearly a decade. The company has earned 178 awards and counting from the most prestigious award programs in the industry, and is a 4-time Toy Industry Association Toy of the Year finalist in the games category.
